

Managed by UC Davis School of Law (King Hall), this fund is available to provide limited financial assistance to enrolled law students who are unable to meet immediate, essential expenses due to a temporary financial hardship related to an emergency situation.

Possible Covered Expenses:

There are various circumstances that result in financial hardships; therefore, all application submissions will be carefully reviewed by the Office of Financial Aid. Typical expenses covered include, but are not limited to:

- Essential living expenses (e.g. housing, food, utilities)
- Essential academic expenses
- Medications or other health-related costs
- Costs related to a death or serious illness in the immediate family
- Transportation issues that directly impact education
- Replacement of essential personal belongings due to natural disaster, fire, theft, or other unforeseen circumstance
- Other sudden, unexpected financial needs

Eligibility Requirements:

- Applicants must be an enrolled King Hall student for the term in which the emergency aid is being requested
- Have temporary financial hardship resulting from an emergency situation
- Be in good academic standing and maintaining Satisfactory Academic Progress with the law school
- Be able to provide a personal statement addressing financial hardship, and, if requested, other documentation

The Application Process:

The King Hall Emergency Fund application must be completed and submitted to the Office of Financial Aid. Financial aid staff will review submitted applications and make a determination within a maximum of five business days of the receipt of the application.

Applicants may be required to provide additional information or take further steps as part of the application review. While we attempt to support as many students as possible with emergency funding, funding is limited and we are not able to grant every request or, in some cases, offer the full amount requested. Due to limited funding, standard financial aid options will be considered in determining any award amount.

This fund exists to support students in their time of need, so you are encouraged to apply if you are experiencing an emergency. You are also welcome to contact the law school's Director of Financial Aid (Montré Everett, mdeverett@ucdavis.edu) if you have any questions.
